

The Saints Award Grants to Metro Chicago Performing Arts Groups

The Saints, Chicago's Volunteers for the Performing Arts, has announced that it is awarding $52,964 in grants to 16 performing arts groups in the Chicago metropolitan area for 2018. The grants, ranging in amounts from $2,200 to $5,000, were awarded to theater, dance and music organizations for 2018 - 2019 projects. Over the last twenty-five years, the Saints have given over $985,000 to many different performing arts groups, starting with a donations committee making random selections in 1995 and adapting over the years to the present grants process.

The grants will fund projects such as: unique costume design, puppetry, musical instruments, enhancement of performance spaces and the purchase of various kinds of technical equipment, to name a few. Evaluation criteria looked at the project description, financial viability and legal verification, collaboration among organizations, dedication to cultural and ethnic diversity and addressing underrepresented or physically challenged performers and audiences.

The selection process was undertaken by an all-volunteer grants commission that evaluated a total of 126 proposals. Current funding for the Saints Grants comes almost exclusively from the annual membership dues and donations of its members. Awardees range from relatively new companies to some well-known brand names in Chicago performing arts and are located throughout the Chicago area.

The more than 2,300 members of The Saints: Volunteers for the Performing Arts provide volunteer services for over 200 Chicago area performing arts organizations annually, along with financial support through our MatchGrants Program. Saints membership both provides an opportunity to personally support the arts in metro Chicago and see shows affordably by ushering.

The Saints will celebrate our grant recipients on Monday, June 18, at the Athenaeum Theatre, 2936 N. Southport, with a reception at 6 pm and the program beginning at 7 pm. The public is invited to this free event. Saints members are encouraged to attend.
